

Scenario manual

How a shipment moves through the portal, told as nine situations.
Written for presenting the mockup and for checking that it behaves as described.

#	SCENARIO	WHO	MAIN SAMPLE JOBS
1	A new customer asks for a quote	Dispatcher · Ana Cruz	creates SJ-2026-00123
2	Keep the paperwork moving	Dispatcher · Ana Cruz	SJ-2026-00095, 00088
3	Customs trouble	Manager · Grace Tan	SJ-2026-00130, 00065
4	Delivery day, on a phone	Warehouse Crew · Ben Santos	SJ-2026-00077
5	Whose money is it?	Manager · Grace Tan	SJ-2026-00120
6	Hand over to Finance	Manager · Grace Tan	SJ-2026-00070
7	Finance reads the result	Finance · Paolo Reyes	SJ-2026-00060, 00101
8	People come and go	Admin · Mark Villar, then Ana	SJ-2026-00082
9	What the customer sees	Customer, no account	SJ-2026-00065

Every screenshot in this manual is taken automatically from the current build of the mockup, with red numbered markers on what to look at or click, in order. All names, numbers and files are fictional sample data.

The idea in one page

Before v3 the portal showed everything but told you nothing about what to do. v3 is built on three rules you will see on every screen.

1 · Home answers "what needs me?"

Every person lands on Home. It lists only their work, most urgent first, and each item carries the button that resolves it.

2 · Every job answers "what now?"

The Next step panel on a job shows the one thing that happens next, the checklist (the gate) that must be true first, and the fix beside each missing item.

3 · Where it is and whether it is OK are separate

The stage (a navy outline pill) says where a job is. The health pill (green, amber, red) says whether it is OK. Only health is coloured.

The nine stages, and what lets a job leave each one

#	STAGE	THE GATE (WHAT MUST BE TRUE TO MOVE ON)
1	Booked	Vessel and voyage booked
2	Documentation	All 5 documents approved + task: Verify shipment documents complete
3	Sailed	Confirm the vessel arrived
4	Arrived at Port	Start customs (free storage is running)
5	Customs Clearance	Seven customs steps, each with its own task (lodge entry, pay duties with enough client funds, delivery order, book truck)
6	Out for Delivery	Only by confirming delivery with receiver + proof
7	Delivered	All tasks done, documents approved, no open exceptions, extra charges decided, a charge recorded, no unresolved damage
8	Billing Ready	Manager closes the job
9	Closed	Nothing left

A Manager or Admin can override the order (real jobs are not always tidy), but must give a reason, which goes to the audit trail. An open exception or a customs hold freezes the job until a Manager acts.

Anatomy of a job page

(1) Health: is it OK? (2) Stage: where is it? (3) The journey; customs shows its seven inner steps as a small meter. (4) Next step: what happens now, the gate, and the one primary button. (5) The fee clock: free days before the port or shipping line starts charging.

(1) The record itself sits in tabs below the work. A number on a tab is work waiting there; amber or red means it matters.

Before you begin

Open `apps/mockup/index.html` in Chrome or Edge (double-click it). Nothing is installed or saved. The portal's clock is fixed at Monday 28 September 2026, so every "overdue" and "days left" assumes that date.

1 Sign in, or open the demo guide

Sign-in is simulated: Sign in with Microsoft (1), then pick a person. Customers use Track a shipment (2) and need no account. If you are presenting, Open the demo guide (3).

The account chooser lists the demo people, each with their role. A deactivated person cannot be picked.

2 Find your way around

(1) Search anything: job, container, BL, customer or inquiry (Ctrl K). (2) The demo guide. (3) Overdue alerts: the escalation emails the portal would send. (4) Your avatar: switch person without losing data, or sign out. (5) The menu shows only what your role may use.

3 Use the demo guide when presenting

Each scenario in this manual has a Start button (1) that signs in as the right person and opens the right screen. Scenarios build on each other; Reset demo data (2) puts the original sample data back.

Who is who

PERSON	ROLE	LANDS ON	IN ONE LINE
Ana Cruz	Dispatcher	My work	Runs customers, inquiries, quotes, jobs, documents and tasks. Sees no money.
Cathy Lim	Dispatcher	My work	A second dispatcher. Leaves the company in Scenario 8.
Ben Santos	Warehouse Crew	My work	Field work on a phone: deliveries with proof, returning containers. Sees only his jobs.
Grace Tan	Manager	Command center	Decisions: exceptions, customs holds, client money, handing jobs to Finance.
Mark Villar	Admin	Command center	Everything a Manager does, plus users, roles and access.
Paolo Reyes	Finance	Finance desk	Read only: jobs waiting for Finance, how each settles, the Billing Summary.
Customer	No account	Tracking page	Shipment status in plain words. Never money, staff or internal detail.

A new customer asks for a quote

THE SITUATION

Test Freight Co. has never worked with Top1Movers. Its contact, Lea Ramos, wants one container of insured goods brought from Shanghai to Pasig. Ana has to set the customer up, log the request, send a price, record the client's signed approval and open the shipment job, typing each detail only once.

Keep the paperwork moving

THE SITUATION

Golden Harvest's job SJ-2026-00095 is stuck in Documentation: one document waits for review, one was rejected, one is missing. Pacific Rim's ship on job SJ-2026-00088 has just reached Manila. Ana has to get the paperwork approved, move both jobs on, and keep the customer's page truthful.

SCENARIO 3

Customs trouble

THE SITUATION

Grace starts her day on Home. Sample Trading's container (SJ-2026-00130) was picked for a physical inspection, a Red lane, and is on hold. On Golden Harvest's SJ-2026-00065, the crew raised an exception: the HS code on the invoice does not match the Bill of Lading. Both jobs are frozen until a manager acts.

WHO DOES THE WORK

Manager: Grace Tan

YOU END UP WITH

The hold cleared and customs moving again on one job; the exception approved with a named fix and owner on the other.

1 Start from the Command center

(1) KPI tiles: each is a question with its answer, and a click opens the jobs behind it. (2) The pipeline: every stage with its job count; a red lock counts blocked jobs. (3) Needs you: everything waiting for a manager, most urgent first, filterable. (4) Fee clocks: free days left before storage or detention fees.

Every row carries the button that resolves it, so most decisions are one click from Home: (1) review the exception, (2) open the held job.

Search job, container, BL, customs (Ctrl K)

Why it works this way: a manager's job is decisions, so Home is a decision list sorted by consequence (frozen jobs, then late work, then money, then clocks), not a wall of tables.

2 Clear a customs hold

SJ-2026-00130 is Blocked: the panel explains the hold (1) and what the Red lane means (2). Only a Manager or Admin sees Clear hold (3); a dispatcher sees who they are waiting on.

Why it works this way: approving an exception must not quietly make the problem disappear. The fix becomes a task that blocks the next move until it is actually done.

SCENARIO 4

Delivery day, on a phone

THE SITUATION

The truck with Meridian's container (SJ-2026-00077) has reached the consignee in Pasig. Ben is in the yard with a phone. He has to confirm who received the goods and attach proof, the photo of the signed receipt. Without that proof the job cannot be billed.

WHO DOES THE WORK

Warehouse Crew: Ben Santos

YOU END UP WITH

SJ-2026-00077 Delivered with receiver and proof, and the empty-container return waiting on his list.

1 Deliveries come first

Ben's Home leads with deliveries to confirm, with the customer's delivery instructions on the card. The big button (1) is the whole job. The bottom bar (2) has labels, not just icons.

The screenshot shows the TopMovers app home screen. At the top, there's a header with the TopMovers logo and navigation icons. Below the header, a greeting says "Good morning, Ben." followed by "Monday 28 September 2026. 1 delivery to confirm." A section titled "Deliveries to confirm" shows a card for "Meridian — Pasig Distribution" with container ID "SJ-2026-00077" and location "Pasig, PH". The card includes "Delivery instructions" to "Deliver with 2-person unloading crew." and a note about "Free detention: 5 free days left, return the empty container by 03 Oct." A large blue button labeled "Confirm delivery" is highlighted with a red circle and the number 1. At the bottom, a navigation bar with icons for "Home" and "Shipments" is highlighted with a red circle and the number 2.

2 Confirm with proof

The form opens as a bottom sheet. Confirming without the receiver or the proof is refused, with the reason under each field (1, 2).

The screenshot shows the "Confirm delivery" form. At the top, there's a header with the TopMovers logo and navigation icons. Below the header, the form title is "Confirm delivery" with a close button. The form is for container "SJ-2026-00077" at "Meridian — Pasig Distribution". It includes a section for "Customer instructions" to "Deliver with 2-person unloading crew." A "Received by" field is labeled "Name and role of the person who signed" and is highlighted with a red circle and the number 1. A "Delivery date" field is labeled "28 Sep 2026". A "Proof of delivery" section has a button to "Click to choose a file, or drag it here" and a note "Photo of the signed delivery receipt". A "Use a sample file (demo)" button is highlighted with a red circle and the number 2. Below this, there's a toggle for "Something arrived damaged or incomplete" and a "What is wrong" field labeled "Which items, how many, what damage". At the bottom, there are "Cancel" and "Confirm delivery" buttons.

3 Fill it in

Receiver (1), the proof photo (2), the damage switch if anything arrived broken (3), then Confirm delivery (4), which stays at the bottom of the sheet.

The screenshot shows the 'Confirm delivery' form for shipment SJ-2026-00077. At the top, it says 'Good morning, Ben.' and 'Confirm delivery' with a close button. Below is a 'Customer instructions' box: 'Deliver with 2-person unloading crew.' The form has four numbered steps: 1. 'Received by' with a text input 'G. Tan (Receiving)' and a warning 'Enter who received the goods.' 2. 'Proof of delivery' with a file input 'sample-podfile.pdf' and a warning 'Attach the proof of delivery.' 3. A toggle switch for 'Something arrived damaged or incomplete' which is currently off. 4. A 'What is wrong' text area with the placeholder 'Which items, how many, what damage'. At the bottom are 'Cancel' and 'Confirm delivery' buttons.

4 Done

The job is Delivered (1). The next step (2) is the Finance checklist, which includes returning the empty container.

The screenshot shows the shipment tracking page for SJ-2026-00077, marked 'On track'. It lists the company 'Meridian Import Export Ltd.' and the route 'Shanghai, CN → Manila, PH → Pasig, PH'. A progress bar shows steps: 'stoms arance', 'Out for Delivery', 'Delivered' (active), 'Billing Ready', and 'Closed'. Below is a finance checklist titled 'TO REACH BILLING READY 2 things left before Billing Ready'. It states 'Finance receives one clean, checked job instead of chasing people for receipts.' The checklist has two items: 'All tasks done' (1 open: Return empty container) with a 'Complete return empty container' button, and 'All documents approved' which is checked.

5 Return the empty container

On the Delivery tab the detention clock shows how long before the shipping line charges; Mark returned (1) stops it.

Why it works this way: field crew work on phones in a yard. One big action per card, forms as bottom sheets with the confirm button always in reach, and 44px touch targets.

SCENARIO 5

Whose money is it?

THE SITUATION

Top1Movers pays duties and freight for clients first and bills them back, like a personal shopper who pays up front. On Golden Harvest's SJ-2026-00120 a customs duty of ₱18,400 is due 30 September, but only ₱10,000 of the client's money is left, and free storage ends in two days.

WHO DOES THE WORK

Manager: Grace Tan

YOU END UP WITH

The shortfall covered, the duty paid with a receipt, and customs moved on.

1 The shortfall blocks the payment

The gate says it plainly: not enough client funds to pay the duty (1). The primary button is Add funds received (2). The fee clock (3) shows why it is urgent.

SCENARIO 9

What the customer sees

THE SITUATION

Golden Harvest wants an update on SJ-2026-00065 but has no login. They open the tracking page and type their bill of lading number.

WHO DOES THE WORK

Customer: no account

YOU END UP WITH

A plain, friendly status, with an “action needed” note when it is genuinely their move, and no internal details.

1 Enter any number they have

Job, bill of lading or container number (1); capitals and spaces do not matter. Track shipment (2).

2 Read the status

A plain headline (1). Because the customs duty on this job is waiting for the client (set in Scenario 3), the page says Action needed from you (2). The timeline (3) uses seven customer words, never internal statuses.

What changed from v2, and why

AREA	BEFORE (V2)	NOW (V3)
Home	Managers landed on a wall of eight tables; field roles landed on a separate My Tasks page.	Every role lands on Home, which answers one question: what needs me today? Managers get a Command center (KPI doors, the pipeline, a Needs you queue sorted by consequence, fee clocks). Dispatchers and crew get task cards. Finance gets a Finance desk.
Moving a job	"Update status" opened a dropdown where every option but one was disabled, and the reason was in a warning box.	A Next step panel on every job says what happens now, lists the gate (what must be true first), puts the fix beside each missing item, and offers exactly one primary button.
Customs	A second stepper, a lane dropdown, a hold link and an "Advance customs stage" button in a separate panel.	Customs is one inner meter on the main track and a strip in the Next step panel. Each of the seven steps has its own gate (lodge entry, enough funds, pay duties...).
Colour	Every stage was a blue "info" pill, so colour carried no meaning.	Stage is a neutral navy outline (where it is). Health is the only coloured signal (On track, Needs attention, Blocked, With Finance).
Sales	Inquiry, quotation and "convert" were three pages you hopped between.	One inquiry page: a checklist toward "becomes a job", then the four steps (inquiry, quotation versions, client approval, job) on one scroll.
Shipment 360	The tabs where you do the work were below four read-only panels; Overview repeated them.	Work is above the fold (next step, fee clock, key facts); the record is in tabs below, and the page opens on the tab the next step needs.
Money	Short on funds was a warning; paying the duty was still allowed.	Paying duties is blocked while client funds are short, and the job page makes "Add funds received" the primary action. Money is also part of the customs gate.
People leaving	Switch someone off, then find their tasks job by job.	Switching someone off opens a hand-over: see their open work, hand all of it to a colleague in one step, logged on every job.
Damage	A damaged delivery blocked billing forever (no way to resolve it).	A Manager records how the damage was settled; billing can then proceed.
Phones	Tables overflowed; the bottom bar had unlabelled icons.	Lists become cards; drawers become bottom sheets with a sticky confirm button; the bottom bar has labels.
Presenting	Presenter had to remember who to sign in as and where to go.	A Demo guide (top bar and login page) starts every scenario as the right person on the right screen, and can reset the data.

Why it looks the way it does

CHOICE	REASON
--------	--------

Navy for action, red only as a mark	Navy is Top1Movers' own colour, lifted for screen readability. The brand red appears only on the logo, the 3px top rule and the selected tab underline, so red never competes with real danger.
Status colour = meaning, never decoration	Green, amber and red appear only when something is OK, needs attention or is blocked, always with an icon and a word, so colour-blind users and printed pages lose nothing.
One primary button per screen	The single solid navy button is always the next thing to do. Everything else is tonal or ghost, so the eye finds the action in under a second.
Numbers are doors	Every KPI tile opens the list behind it. A number you cannot act on is decoration. There are no invented "+2 vs last week" trends: sample data cannot back them.
Motion only marks change	A stage connector fills once when a job moves; the Next step panel eases in with its new state; lists stagger so the eye reads top-down; bars grow from zero. The current stage breathes to show "in progress". All motion stops for users who ask their system for reduced motion.
Cards float, tables do not	Panels that hold decisions have a soft lift; dense tables stay flat with hairlines, because hours of scanning rows needs calm, not shadows.
Monospace for IDs	Job, container and BL numbers use a monospace face so 0/O and 1/I never get confused when read over the phone.
Plain words for customers	The tracking page uses seven customer-friendly steps ("On the water"), never internal status names, money or staff names.

Notes

- The workflow follows the client's written blueprint and general Philippine customs-brokerage practice. It has not been confirmed line by line with Top1Movers' operations; wording and rules may change after discovery.
- Still to decide with the client: who may move a job's stage (today Dispatcher, Manager, Admin), several containers per job, vessel delays as their own status, partial deliveries, and a secure expiring link for the customer page instead of a guessable number.
- The UAT workbook (`docs/testing/UAT-test-cases.xlsx`) was written for v2. Its steps name screens and buttons that v3 has replaced, so it needs updating before the next test round.
- All names, numbers and files are fictional. Nothing is saved: refresh the page, or use Reset demo data in the demo guide, to start over.
